PERSPECTIVES: Dorothy Styles, Project Grad and Sylvia Jones, Wells Fargo - College

With 27.2% of Georgia children living in poverty, going to college can seem more like a dream than a reality to many students. That's why Wells Fargo working with Project GRAD in Atlanta and First Generation Films teamed up to reach and inspire more than 2,000 high school students to screen the award-winning documentary First Generation at three high schools and Atlanta Metropolitan State College. A winner of awards at two film festivals, and filmed over the course of three years, First Generation (www.firstgenerationfilm.com) is narrated by Blair Underwood and profiles the emotional journey of four students attempting to break the cycle of poverty by pursuing their college dreams. The film painfully shows, first generation students are at a disadvantage due to their families' unfamiliarity with college applications, scholarships, and the federal aid process. In some Title I schools, guidance counselors are likely to oversee more than 600 students, leaving high performing first generation scholars with little support from their families or schools.

PERSPECTIVES: Karen Greenzide, Emory University, There have been growing concerns surrounding genetic diseases and the importance of genetic screening. JScreen, an at-home saliva genetic screening program, is an initiative to help Jewish people and their partners learn about their carrier status when planning or growing their families. J-Screen offers screening for over 80 genetic diseases, 19+ of which are most common within the Jewish community, from the comfort and privacy of your own home—all for $100 or less and a bit of your spit. The program is based out of Emory University's Department of Genetics delivering genetic counseling to patients in order to interpret results and provide options to patients. J-Screen will be hosting a screening event in Atlanta at the Marcus Jewish Community Center of Atlanta on Sunday, Aug. 24 to help the local community learn more about genetic screening and provide screening kits for attendees.

8/17/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: Are You Sick Of Not Sleeping: Many people have a problem getting a good night's sleep. Coffee and other stimulating drinks can be one cause. Pain is another cause. Things like restless leg syndrome, pain in the back, all can interrupt your sleep pattern. Depression is another cause of sleep disorder. Many people take sleeping pills to help with sleep. Sleeping pills have side effects. Alcohol can actually cause insomnia.

8/24/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: Sleep and Hormones: Love is a chemical reaction controlled by hormones. Lack of sleep will cause your hormone levels to be off. Eating late at night before sleep can interfere with your sleep cycle. Room temperature can cause sleep problems as well. 70 degrees is the optimum temperature for sleep.

8/31/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: New Cancer Research: New research shows a plant based diet is the best to avoid getting cancer. Limit or avoid dairy products to avoid prostate cancer. Two glasses of milk a day will increase your chances of getting cancer by 60%.

9/7/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: Are Men Turning Into Women: Cancer can best be dealt with a healthy body and immune system. If you constantly assault your immune system, it will get overwhelmed. Sugar is cancer's favorite meal. Avoid sugar.

Katz discusses the various diagnoses of anger issues and when it's time to get help.

9/14/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: Are Food Guidelines Making You Sick: The USDA was formed in 1862. They set policy for agriculture and food guidelines. This is a conflict of interest. They set subsidies and then include subsidized foods in the guidelines. The school lunch program is in shambles. It is tied in to the nutritional guidelines.

9/21/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: Nutritional Guidelines for Heart Health:

For years, we've been urged to eliminate fat from our diets (low fat). New studies have proven this is wrong. You need "good fats" in your diet for optimum health. Good fats can be found in coconut oil, olive oil, avocado oil, and similar vegetable oils.

9/28/14 7AM 60MINS

HEALTH TALK: Slow Down Aging: You can actually look and feel younger than your biological age. Living healthy is the key. Scented candles can actually make you age faster. They contain chemicals that can alter your hormones. Smoking is another quick aging agent. Over exercising can cause you to age quickly as well. Over exercising causes your body to release free radicals. These have to be dealt with antioxidants.

PERSPECTIVES: Elisabeth Omilami, Executive Director, Hosea Feed the Hungry

Hosea Feed the Hungry and Homeless (HFTH) will partner with Meet College Park, and the North Metro Career Center of the Georgia Department of Labor to host the 4th annual Labor of Love. This event has successfully given Atlanta citizens exposure to great job prospects and the opportunity to get back to work. This year's event will take place on Saturday, September 6, 2014 from 10am to 1pm at the Georgia International Convention Center. Labor of Love was created to reclaim some of the initial promise of Labor Day—a celebration of American labor and an inspiration that there is hope for American citizens. During the event, individuals will have access to job opportunities, they will also sharpen their job interviewing skills and job counselors will be on-site critiquing resumes. Americans are still suffering disproportionately in the current financial crisis, according to the Department of Labor's July report, unemployment still hovers around 6.2 percent nationally. In Georgia, the unemployment rate sits at 7.8 percent. Labor of Love was designed to meet the basic employment needs of so many. The Labor of Love event will also have traditional HFTH activities including food and clothing distribution, medical screenings and more.

PERSPECTIVES: Kaiser Permanente's Dr. Kelly Degraffenreid and race director, Jeff Galloway.

On September 11, the streets of Atlanta will be filled with runners and walkers participating in the annual Kaiser Permanente Corporate Run/Walk. The course starts at Turner Field and weaves its way through downtown Atlanta. The Kaiser Permanente Corporate Run/Walk targets companies. Individuals are welcome, but the goal is to improve the health of metro Atlanta's workforce. The majority of our participants are part of a corporate team, which builds camaraderie among coworkers and motivates them to get active. Unlike other races, The Kaiser Permanente Corporate Run/Walk has a built-in training component. This is not a one-day event—it's an 8-week fitness program that culminates in a 5K race in downtown Atlanta. This year also features the popular Saturday morning boot camp at Piedmont Park. Last year more than 17,000 runners and walkers from 400 metro Atlanta companies participated. Kaiser Permanente of Georgia provides both health coverage and health care, so we are committed to helping people achieve total health.

PERSPECTIVES: Bernard Kinsey – The Kinsey Collection

Have you ever wondered about the poor representation of African-Americans in the making of America? Bernard Kinsey calls it “the myth of absence.” To help deal with that, we are bringing to Atlanta for the first time The Kinsey Collection -- a myth-busting, dialogue-promoting show that will debut at the Atlanta History Center in early April. Bernard and Shirley Kinsey and their son Kahlil put it together and they’ll be in Atlanta to open the exhibit –which covers 400 years of art and artifacts that bring to life the real role of African-Americans in early – and later – America. It’s been to the Smithsonian and 14 other museums, and its’ been profiled on the CBS network and scores of articles and TV and radio stories – but it’s new to Atlanta. As an example, the collection includes chilling artifacts like female slave shackles, a wall graphic of the Goree Island (in Africa) portal to slave ships, a schedule of 500 slaves and an early book entitled “Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl.” And the early art works by African-Americans are amazing. There’s a copy of the Dred Scott decision, an early copy of the Emancipation Proclamation, Brown vs. Board of Education and much more. Bernard Kinsey, also shows that there were more two-headed African-American families in America in 1865 than there were white families – and that African-Americans were part of America before Jamestown – and not as slaves. And for the first time, this show will include a first edition of Solomon Northrup’s book “12 Years a Slave,” the basis for the film that just won Best Picture in the Oscars.

PERSPECTIVES: Terrance Tykeem, We Stand up Coalition, in collaboration with, Diamond Mine Media Publishing, have release of Touched, the book and music single, of the same name. It isn’t strangers our children have to fear. Most child sexual abusers are respected members of the community drawn to settings where they gain easy access to children like schools, clubs and churches. Even worse to comprehend is when the abuser is a parent, foster parent, or relative. The third book for Terrance Tykeem shares the stories of two individuals sexual molested as children. Songwriter, Producer, Businessman and Ex-NFL walk-on, Terrance Tykeem was born in Atlanta, Georgia, spending equal time between Atlanta and Philadelphia. As a product of the foster care system, Tykeem has firsthand knowledge of abuse against children. Tykeem fights against injustices plaguing our communities such as child sexual abuse, domestic violence, and mass incarceration, just to name a few.

PERSPECTIVES: Joy Johnson, Executive Director and Fiona Faire School Director, The Georgia Ballet School, founded in 1960 by Iris Hensley, is dedicated to providing outstanding instruction in ballet and related dance styles in a professional, structured, yet nurturing environment. The Georgia Ballet School faculty is a group of dedicated and enthusiastic dance education professionals who work closely together within a carefully designed curriculum comprised of thirteen grade levels, each with a written syllabus to ensure progress. The Georgia Ballet announced the addition of Fiona Fairrie as School Director for the 2014-2015 seasons. Classes are held in The Georgia Ballet's spacious 13,000 square foot facility. The School's resident ballet company, The Georgia Ballet, provides talented, advanced level students with opportunities to apprentice with a professional organization. The company's presence also provides a valuable firsthand education for all students in the ultimate practical application of their weekly lessons. The Georgia Ballet School's primary focus is on classical ballet, but also offers classes in tap, modern dance, jazz, and hip hop. The school aims to serve both the recreational dancer, as well as the applied student, for whom ballet performance is a career goal.

PERSPECTIVES: Darryl Brown, Artist and son of James Brown, author of Inside the Godfather James Brown

If you think you know the soul truth about James Brown, think again! "Inside the Godfather" is a history changing book, but most importantly we will set the record straight about James Brown, The Godfather of Soul! Stories that have NEVER been told such as: Did you know that James Brown, The Godfather of Soul was offered over ten million dollars to convert to a certain religion? Daryl Brown believes that his dad, James Brown, his brother-in-law and his older brother Teddy were murdered. The book was released simultaneously with the Universal Studios biographical film "Get on Up."

Inside the Godfather brings together, for the first time, Brown's inner circle. They will correct the distortions of the past and provide the reader a clear understanding of the brilliance and generosity that was James Brown.

PERSPECTIVES: Tavis Smiley, Talk Host and Author of Death of a King

New York Times bestselling author and award-winning broadcaster Tavis Smiley brings us a revealing and dramatic chronicle of the twelve months leading up to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s assassination. Martin Luther King, Jr. died in one of the most shocking assassinations the world has known, but little is remembered about the life he led in his final year. Smiley recounts the final 365 days of King's life, revealing the minister's trials and tribulations—denunciations by the press, rejection from the president, dismissal by the country's black middle class and militants, assaults on his character, ideology, and political tactics, to name a few—all of which he had to rise above in order to lead and address the racism, poverty, and militarism that threatened to destroy our democracy.
